

In the Specification:

Please replace the paragraph starting on line 8 of page 11 with the following rewritten paragraph:

In the depicted alternate control storage system 200a, the control module 212 and the adapters 214 reside on the host 110. The host 110 executes computer readable program code. One of the adapters 214 may be a controller adapter 214a while another may be a storage adapter 214b. During normal operation, the control module 212 directs standard storage commands to the primary RAID controller 120a via the controller adapter 214a. In turn, the primary RAID controller 120a executes operations on the storage devices 134.
